Sliding tarpaulin wagon Rils of the Deutsche Bahn AG (DB-Cargo). Epoch V.

New design 2019 !

True to original livery and lettering. Coupler pocket according to NEM 355 standards and close coupling motion link.

Prototype: Since the car has no stanchions, side skirts of 25 mm height take over the protection against transverse displacement of the mostly palletized cargo. There are 15 additional lashing eyes on each side of the I-beams. More lashing eyes can also be found on the insides of the front walls at a height of 3,500 millimeters.
